

Virtual fundraising

As many fundraising events have been cancelled or postponed, we, like many charities, will see our donation income reduce.

This will affect the amount of money we can give to the SCAD research project, so we are asking our supporters to think of ways you can raise money virtually while the current social distancing restrictions are in place.

Here are some ideas to get your fundraising going in TWO EASY STEPS!

1

Decide what you're going to do

Here are some ideas:

- Run 5K, donate £5 and nominate friends to do the same
- Hold online events via Skype, Zoom or Facetime, and ask people to donate to take part...
 - a virtual coffee morning or pub quiz
 - an online class passing on your knowledge or skills – yoga, crafting, languages...
 - a virtual book club
- Set up a Facebook fundraiser for achieving a goal, such as walking or running a certain distance each day for a week/month
- Clearing the clutter? Use Ebay to donate a percentage of your sale price to Beat SCAD
- Donate your Betterpoints points to Beat SCAD

2

Collect donations

Set up a fundraising page, start a Facebook fundraiser or donate via Paypal Giving.
