

SCAD in Cardiac Rehabilitation: an exploration of the lived experiences of patients

If you have been diagnosed with SCAD in the last 3 months, we would like to invite you to participate in a study investigating your experience with this condition and cardiac rehabilitation.

The study will involve interviews, and we will collect information about your physical activity, quality of life, diet and weight.

